

Home

Welcome at COSA – the Business Process Management (BPM) provider

You want to improve the efficiency of your core processes by means of modern BPM technology? You must increase process transparency or document processes due to compliance requests? Or do you want to reduce reaction times to changing market requirements?

Implement BPM supported by the COSA experts. Trust our customers' success and the extensive experience of our personnel.

The COSA Business Process Management Suite covers all phases of the BPM lifecycle. Among others, this includes business-related process modeling, technical implementation of processes, simulation of process scenarios, execution and control of processes up to evaluation and management information.

An integral component of the BPM suite is COSA DM, a document management system that allows to administer all information occurring during the process execution. After process termination, this information can be stored together with the process documentation.

About COSA