Accessing and using this web site are subject to the following conditions of use as well as corresponding laws and regulations. As soon as users access and use this web site, they accept the following terms of use without modifications or restrictions. Intellectual Property

Unless otherwise stated, the entire content of this web site is the intellectual property of COSA BV. This does not concern third-party contents which may be accessible via hyperlinks. In such cases, the intellectual property rights belong to the owners of the web sites that are referred to by hyperlinks. If the contents referred to on this web site are marked by trade or service marks or other annotations regarding industrial property law, these contents remain property of their owners. Loading, printing, copying and transferring contents of this web site is only permitted if they are explicitly marked as property of COSA BV and if these property rights are not infringed. Modifications, duplicating, distribution or public presentation of the web site or excerpts, be it online or offline, require the written permission of COSA BV. Liability

Unless in case of an deliberate act, COSA BV assumes no liability for damages caused by or occurred in relation with this web site and its content. Furthermore, no liability whatsoever is assumed for damages that occur as a result of using this web site. In particular, it is not guaranteed that this web site is free of viruses and other detrimental objects. Liability is not limited in cases where a liability is prescribed by law or where a limitation of liability is not admissible. The information on this web site is subject to change or update without notice at any time and without prior announcement. This also applies to improvements and/or modifications regarding the described products and applications on this web site. Use of Software

Links on this web site may refer to web sites or services that were created by third parties. In this context, COSA BV provides no information on third-party services or products and is not responsible for contents of third-party web sites. In other words, referring to another web site does not imply that the contents or services on this web site are accepted by COSA BV. Users use a third-party web site or the offered services at their own risk. Contract

By using/opening this web site the user accepts the terms of use. Furthermore, the user agrees that the current terms of use as well as all legal measures or procedures associated with this web site are exclusively subject to the laws of The Netherlands and, as far as required, to international civil law regulations.
