Applications Online

With "Anträge online" (Applications online), the North Rhine-Westphalian Ministry for Labour, Integration and Social Affairs introduced a unique service. Companies can file applications, e. g. for permits or claims or reports regarding occupational health and safety, directly via the Internet without changing the medium. Currently, the qualified electronic signature is tested. By means of this project that is based on a back-office solution developed together with COSA, the Ministry confirms its position as leader in the sector of e-government.
